Indian constitution envisages the values of freedom, equality and fraternity. In order to realise these values, education has to play a constructive role. There should be freedom and equality in education. Education should be a means for freedom and equality. Distance Education has emerged from the concept of selection of courses, place and time on student choice so as to provide freedom and equality in learning process. Hence, the system has emerged as an important branch of education with sprouting of self motivated students.

In order to bring education to the doorstep of those who were deprived of educational opportunities because of the limitations of time, place and space in conventional system, Kakatiya University established School of Distance Learning and Continuing Education (SDLCE) in 1988. School of Distance Learning and Continuing Education is imparting knowledge and suitable skills through distance mode with the conviction of realising constitutional objectives. The School has been in forefront of higher education by providing liberal eligibility criteria and with a commitment to accomplish its goals of imparting quality education to the youth of this region.

Integration of various teaching technologies along with the traditional teaching methods with the objective of 'student-centered' learning and providing equal educational opportunities in higher education through distance mode for a large section of the population, including those in employment, women and youth who wish to upgrade their educational qualification have been the main objectives of SDLCE.

Objectives of SDLCE:

- ✓ To provide educational opportunity to those who have missed the opportunity of taking advantage of conventional mode of learning.
- ✓ To provide an opportunity to get admission into the courses aimed at enhancing the vocational skills for those without a basic qualification and who discontinued their studies for various reasons through the policy of 'liberal education'.
- ✓ To make efforts towards giving freedom of choice in the selection of course content and learning methods.
- ✓ To strive towards providing conducive learning environment in order to erase the distance between the learners and the institution.
- ✓ To design programmes beneficial to all sections of the society.
- ✓ To work in unison with all the universities and institutions concerned at State, National and International levels in order to bring about quality education to the doorstep of the learner by making use of Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs).

We wish the students to make use of the educational opportunities by enhancing their knowledge and skills and partaking in social development.

Wish you all happy learning
